

Maternal Health Care, Breastfeeding, and Implicit Bias

Thursday July 18th

8:30 am - 12:00pm

OR

1:00 pm - 4:30pm

What is Maternal Health Care, Breastfeeding and Implicit Bias?

A training for any medical, early childhood, or other MCH provider who provides services to pregnant and breastfeeding mothers. Increasing awareness of potential implicit biases can help to engage all populations in understanding the importance of breastfeeding to maternal and child health. Jennifer Day, IBCLC, and Sekieta Lewis, RN, IBCLC will be conducting 2 sessions (morning and afternoon). Breakfast will be provided for the morning session and lunch will be provided for the afternoon session.

Genesys Conference & Banquet Center
